

museum impact report 2012-13

South Carolina STATE MUSEUM

 $22 million yearly economic impact to South Carolina

Students visited from all
 46 SC counties

 140 thousand
guests visit annually

 30 years of collecting and interpreting South Carolina history

 68.5 thousand
SC students admitted FREE annually

Who we are

The South Carolina State Museum, the state's largest and most comprehensive museum is located along the banks of the beautiful Congaree River in downtown Columbia, South Carolina. In 1988, the State Museum opened its doors, and today features a collection of more than 100,000 artifacts dedicated to art, history, natural history and science and technology.

2012-13 highlights

- Welcomed 143,199 guests to the museum
- Presented two blockbuster exhibits, resulting in an attendance of 58,118 guests
- Engaged 5,300 people in the museum's annual membership program
- Managed 122 volunteers, which made up 84% of the museum's workforce. In total, volunteers provided 6,108 hours of service at a value of $111,860
- Held five signature events and numerous educational programs and events for all ages featuring South Carolina art, food, history, science and culture
- Rented museum space for over 200 weddings, meetings and events that had a total attendance of 25,440 people

impact on SC economy

- Each year, the State Museum delivers approximately $22 million in economic impact to the state of South Carolina.
- The museum is a cultural tourism destination with an estimated direct impact of $7.3 million and 133 jobs.
- Visitors come from a wide geographic area - 90% from all 46 counties in South Carolina and 10% outside the state.

impact of museums nationwide

- U.S. museums contribute $21 billion to the American economy each year.
- Trips including cultural and heritage activities comprise of 23% of all domestic trips.
- Visitors to historic sites and cultural attractions, including museums, stay 53% longer and spend 36% more money than other kinds of tourists.

What we do

The State Museum is the primary storyteller of the history of South Carolina. Through rich and diverse collections displayed through interactive, engaging exhibits, the State Museum is able to educate thousands each year and tell the story of South Carolina. There is much to see and do every day at the State Museum through a variety of exhibits and educational programs both offered at the museum and through distance learning programs, as well as through entertaining community events of all kind.

Education

- Welcomed school children from all 46 counties in South Carolina to the museum
- Provided free admission to over 68,500 South Carolina students, which represents a value of $342,500 in free admission and educational programming
- Led over 22,500 public, private and home school students through docent and staff-led tours in all four museum disciplines
- Collaborated with SCETV to record five distance learning programs, which were broadcasted to every school across the state

Outreach

- Conducted 70 outreach programs, reaching 30,081 South Carolinians.
- Provided 28 traveling exhibits to partners, reaching 66,136 people in South Carolina and other neighboring states
- Presented 480 public programs to the community, reaching approximately 14,000 people
- Provided four weeks of science summer camp free-of-charge to over 160 underserved elementary and middle school students

Where we're going

The State Museum is undergoing a multi-dimensional expansion project, Windows to New Worlds, which will position South Carolina on the cutting edge of education, particularly in the critical areas of science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM).

Windows to New Worlds, slated to open in 2014, has several innovative elements, including enhanced guest services, an on-site and online observatory and classroom with a distance learning studio, 55-foot digital planetarium dome and theater, 4D multisensory theatre, historical telescope gallery and an outdoor telescope viewing terrace.

In the capital city where three interstates converge, no one in the state will be more than 3.5 hours away. Some 75,000 additional visitors are anticipated in the first year alone and earned revenue is expected to double to $3,000,000 per year.

